ACTIVITY AGAINST AL SMITH GROWS

Dixie Senator Apparently Is Center of Fight to Keep Nomination From New Yorker.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
Washington, February 6.—(United News.)—The way of the transgressor is reported in some quarters to be hard, but it is nothing to what the presidential candidate who gets out in front of his procession must face.
On the republican side Hoover is having a taste of it and on the democratic side even larger portions are being served up to Governor Smith.
The activity against Smith is especially marked in the southeast where hopes are being built up around the candidacy of Senator George of Georgia. He is a newcomer in national politics, a medium-sized, clean-cut man just turned 50 a few days ago.
He has a deep rich voice and is temperamentally pointed in debate, with a temperament dominantly judicial,
much given to weighing both sides
and making his decisions with an appearance of fairness which his opponents respect.

GREEKS PLANNING $50,000 BUILDING

Atlanta Orthodox Church
To Erect General Community Center, Modeled
After Famed Parthenon

Plans for erection of a large structure to serve as a Sunday school, auditorium and general community center of the Greek Orthodox church, incorporating the architectural beauty
of the ancient buildings of Greece,
were disclosed Monday by Chris Cor-
cos, president of the community.
It is understood the structure will cost approximately $50,000. It will be erected at 455 South Pryor street, between Fulton and Richardson streets.
This property was purchased by the church about 60 days ago for $7,500.
It was stated, the residence on the site is to be razed early next month,
with construction of the new community center to follow immediately.
A drive for $50,000 for the building fund has been launched by the community and is expected to be completed shortly. The Greek Orthodox church now occupies a building at Central avenue and Garnett street and is to continue to use this for religious services, it was said. The Rev. John Younkakis is spiritual leader of the community.
While only tentative details of the new structure have been made known,
it is understood that the building will be modeled to some extent after the famous Parthenon of Athens, Greece.
Several buildings of this type have been erected by Greek communities in America.

Hickman Flouted Crime Penalties, Expert Asserts

Fox Admitted Knowing
He Faced Gallows When
He Murdered Girl, Dr.
Mikels Testifies.

FOUR ALIENISTS SAY YOUTH SANE

Slayer Was Actuated by Desire for Quick Money
and Self Protection,
They Agree.

Los Angeles, February 6.—(AP)—
William Edward Hickman's own purported words that he knew before he stole Marian Parker from school and slew her that kidnapping and murder
were crimes punishable by life imprisonment and death were weighed against him at his sanity trial today.
They were carried into the court record by Dr. Frank Mikels, of Hollywood, an alienist called by the state in its efforts to prove that the apparently unworried youth in the prison's dock was sane at the time of the crime and to consign him to death for its commission. No one did he admit knowledge of the consequences of the crimes he was committing,
the witness declared, but added this significant remark:
"I don't fear punishment, but I'd rather not be hung."
Four Alienists Testify.
All told, the prosecution sent four alienists to the witness box to tell of the actions and reactions of the accused youth, whose mentality was the subject of attack throughout last week
by defending lawyers and another group of medical men.
Outstanding in testimony adduced
today was the statement by Dr. Victor Parker, of the Los Angeles county insanity commission, that Hickman told him the killing of the schoolgirl
was a matter of self-protection to him.
She had to be cut up, Dr. Parker quoted the prisoner, and "when I saw it had to be done, I just did it."
Every expert medical witness summoned so far by the state has agreed on one point: The firm belief that Hickman was sane when he abducted,
killed and mutilated Marian Parker.
Most others have expressed opinions that the youth feigned insanity after his capture at Pendleton, Ore. The defense alienists agreed that Hickman was insane.

Miller Loses Court Fight To Evade Cell

U. S. Tribunal Rules Former Alien Property Custodian
Must Serve Term.

New York, February 6.—(United News.)—Colonel Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian in the Harling administration, today lost another round in his battle to avoid the federal penitentiary.
The United States circuit court of appeals unanimously affirmed his conviction on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government of his "unbiased and unprejudiced services" in connection with the transfer to Swiss claimants of American Metal company assets valued at $7,000,000 and seized
in war time as of German ownership.
Miller was found guilty almost a year ago and sentenced to serve 18 months at Atlanta. He also was fined $5,000.
Daughter Not Convicted.
Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general in the Harding regime, was indicted on the same charge but the jury failed to agree and was discharged by Judge John C. Knox. Later the indictment against Daugherty was dismissed.
Miller now will have to go to the penitentiary, surrendering himself to the United States marshal's office within ten days unless he is permitted to appeal to the supreme court.
He was anticipated at the federal building here that he would seek a writ of certiorari for another review of his case.
The appellate court opinion, written by presiding Judge Martin T.
Manton, found Miller guilty of a conspiracy "which brands him as unfaithful to a trust imposed upon him
in high office where his government had the right to expect fidelity and conscientious performance of his duty."
Cites Teapot Dome Ruling.
The opinion of the United States supreme court in the Teapot Dome
naval oil reserve lease guided Judge
Manton in his findings.
He cited that precedent to show how "a fraud might be practiced upon the government" by showing that a cabinet officer so conducted himself in making contracts and leases that it was impossible for him to give loyalty and fidelity to serve the interest of his employer—the United States.
The claim for American Metal company assets was put forward by Richard Merton, German industrialist, on behalf of the Suisse Pour Va-leurs de Metaux, of Basle, Switzerland. It was approved in almost record time and the government alleged that Miller, together with certain

Controversy Over Naming Nominee to Federal Bench in Georgia.

POST IN NEW YORK OFFERED GEORGIAN

Senator Harris Announces He Will Not Fight Senate Confirmation of Appointment.

Washington, February 6.—(AP)— Twice denied senate confirmation of his appointment of William J. Tilson, of Atlanta, as federal judge for the middle district of Georgia, President Coolidge today shifted his "post of attack and sent in Tilson's name
as a judge of the United States customs court of New York.
Indications are that there will be little if any opposition to the brother of the republican house leader, John Q. Tilson, of Connecticut, for the customs court job. "Objection to Tilson for the Georgia court appointment came largely from Senator Harris, of Georgia, who said he would not oppose him for the new job. Harris based his objection to the previous appointment on the ground not only that Tilson was disqualified by non-residence in the federally created middle district, but also that he lacked experience in legal practice necessary to qualify him for service on the bench of a federal district court.
First Nominated in 1926.
Tilson was first nominated on June 9, 1926, but the nomination was withdrawn ten days later presumably because of the objection by Senator Harris. After congress adjourned the president gave a recess appointment.
The nomination again was sent to the senate on December 7, 1927, only to be withdrawn two months later.
Another recess appointment was given after congress adjourned last March 4 so that Tilson has been serving for nearly two years.
In appointing Tilson to the New York post, the president sought to end the controversy which had not his repeated efforts to make him a judge in Georgia.
It was understood that Coolidge had received assurances that the Great Throng Cheers Lindy At Haiti Port

100,000 Shout Welcome as Island City Holds Record
Celebration for Flier.

Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, February 6.
(United News.)—Colonel Charles A.
Lindbergh neared the end of his goodwill trail today, flying 100 miles from Santo Domingo to Haiti to be enthusiastically greeted by silk-hatted officials, American marines, and superstitious natives from the wild interior.
On Wednesday he leaves for his final destination, Havana and the Pan-American conference, ending a circumnavigation of several thousand miles which began in Washington and has taken him to Mexico, Central America, South America and the Caribbean Islands.
100,000 Great Flier.
Fully 100,000 persons joined in tumultuous greeting of Lindbergh as his plane landed on Bourne field—named after an American marine—and as he headed the parade to the home of American High Commissioner Russell.
For Lindbergh, the flight from Santo Domingo to Port-Au-Prince was a lark. He flew slowly, comparatively speaking, landing at Bourne field at 1:51 p. m.
The greatest reception Haiti ever has accorded a foreigner went to Lindbergh as he climbed from the cockpit of the Spirit of St. Louis, looked at the throng which was cheering toward his machine and extended his hand to the American commissioner.
The typical Lindbergh smile won the hearts of all who saw him.
The Order of Merit, never before awarded to a white man, will be given to Lindbergh before he leaves by President Borno. It is the highest honor Haiti can give.
In Air Three Hours.
It took Lindbergh almost three hours to fly here, but he took a northeasterly roundabout route from Santo Domingo, instead of the 160-mile airline route.
Another 160 miles of airline stretches between Haiti and Cuba,
but Lindbergh is expected to follow
the northern end of Cuba and follow
the coast to Havana, a distance of about 720 miles.
"You are the most popular hero in the world today," President Borno said upon greeting Lindbergh at the field. "Your feats are unparalleled in history. We receive you with the hearts of our country open to you."
Four hundred marines and 300
members of the Haitian gendarmerie guarded the field to prevent the crowd
from pouring onto it as Lindbergh made his landing.
After being welcomed by High Commissioner Russell and President
Borno, Lindbergh blithely received

GREAT CLINIC TO CORRECT DEFECTS OF 1,000 BABIES IS PLANNED FOR ATLANTA

TWO BADLY HURT WHEN STREET CAR AND AUTO CRASH

T. A. Goodson and F. V.
Reese Suffer Fractured
Ribs in Collision on Bankhead Avenue.

Swinging around a sharp curve on Bankhead avenue at Maddox park,
with their vision of an outbound river trolley car obscured almost up to the moment of the crash, two men were seriously injured Monday afternoon in a head-on collision between their automobile and the street car, according to reports at Grady hospital.
The victims are T. A. Goodson, 32, of 874 Hampton street, employee of the Georgia Lead company, and F.
V. Reese, 31, of 589 English avenue, county employee at Bellwood camp.
Reese was driving the automobile,
according to information gained at the hospital. Friends of the injured men who reached the scene of the accident shortly after the crash, said that they understood Reese's vision of the outbound car was hindered by another car, and that the motorists did not see the street car until it was almost on them.
Goodson was rendered unconscious
and is suffering from brain concussion, several fractured ribs and probable internal injuries. He had not regained consciousness at a late hour
Monday night.
Reese, although not as badly hurt,
is in a serious condition with several fractured ribs and is badly bruised.
The street car was in charge of Operator O. F. Trotter.

PERKERSON PARK PURCHASE VOTED

Aldermanic Board Refuses To Reconsider Action; Mayor Expected
To Sign Paper at Once.

Completion of details for purchasing the Perkerson estate for park purposes this morning awaits action of Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, following refusal by the aldermanic board Monday to reconsider its former action
in authorizing the mayor to buy the 429.877-acre tract.
Mayor Ragsdale has expressed lim-self in favor of the project, and it was predicted that he would push details to rapid conclusion in order that Fulton county can begin work immediately on an 18-hole golf course and other improvements designed to convert the strip into a great new park.
Alderman Robert E. Gann, of the sixth ward, Monday offered a motion that the aldermanic board reconsider its former action in approving purchase of the tract for $410,000, but he was the only member of the board to vote for reconsideration, all other members opposing it.
In explaining his stand, Mr. Gann

Baby Stolen by Mother Found at Negro's Home

FATHER CLAIMS CHILD AT POLICE STATION

A blue-eyed, flaxen-haired baby girl, approximately two years old, who, during a brief visit to the police station
Monday night had won over the affection of every man on the force, was identified early this morning by J. T.
Ormond, of 294 Washington street, as his little daughter.
Mr. Ormond stated that the infant was stolen from his home last Saturday night by his mother, from whom he had been separated since September, 1926, and that he had taken out a warrant for her arrest. Ormond added that at the time the separation was effected, in Fulton superior court, the child was awarded to him.
The little girl's visit to headquarters followed a telephone message from two negro women, Pinky Holliday and Ida Mae Ferguson, of 133 East Harris street, who reported that a woman, apparently the mother of the tot, left the infant in their care "for a few minutes" and then departed.
The minutes lengthened into hours,
however, and the mother did not return. When five anxious hours had elapsed, the women notified police,
fearing to keep the child overnight.
The baby, holding a "hula" doll tightly in its arms, was utterly oblivious to the circumstances surrounding its first visit to headquarters—in fact,
it seemed thoroughly pleased with its surroundings and particularly relished
the antics of the policemen, who were eminently successful in their efforts to keep it entertained.
Officer J. A. Brown, well known as a lover of children, constituted himself as the temporary "daddy" of the foundling from the time of its arrival,
with such success that the tiny slip of a girl forgot all about crying and appeared to enjoy every minute of its time as the guest of Atlanta's finest.

FIGHT ON OIL KING'S WRIT OPENS TODAY

Senate Attorney To Ask
Dismissal of Habeas Corpus on Which Robert
W. Stewart Was Freed.

Washington, February 6.—(AP)—
With George W. Wickensham, attorney general in the Taft administration, as its counsel, the senate tomorrow will seek dismissal of the writ
of habeas corpus by which Robert W.
Stewart, Standard oil magnate, obtained his release Saturday from senate custody on a charge of contempt.
The case will be heard before Justice Jennings today in the District of Columbia supreme court and Mr.
Wickensham will combat the contention of the Chicago oil operator that the senate Teapot Dome committee was without authority to ask that he tell what he might know of the disposition of the Liberty bonds bought by the Continental Trading company of Canada. Wickensham argued the Mal Dougherty contempt case in the supreme court for the government.
Hearing To Occur Today.
The hearing tomorrow is expected to consume a day or more and, whatever the decision of Justice Bailey, the case probably will be carried through the District of Columbia court of appeals to the United States supreme court.
Meantime District Attorney Gordon will seek indictment of Stewart by a grand jury not sitting here on two counts of contempt of the senate by reason of his refusal to answer as

Federal troops have established a theoretical blockade around the states
of Jalisco, Michoacan, Uguascalientes

Federal troops are watching every states. They examine every traveler with a view to preventing the enrebels. Two "Douglas" airplanes

LIONS TO LAUNCH MOVEMENT TO AID CHILDREN TONIGHT

Atlanta Physicians Describe Proposal as Practical and as Valuable Service to Community.

LEADING BUSINESS FIRMS BACK PLAN

Loving Cups Will Be Presented to Six Most Perfect Children of 1,000 To Be Examined.

A movement to correct the defects
in 1,000 Atlanta babies will be launched tonight at the Biltmore hotel under auspices of the Lions club of Atlanta, and with the collaboration of 20 leading Atlanta business and industrial firms. The meeting will be in the form of a dinner, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.
The movement will lead to the establishment of a clinic at the Medical Arts building, in which 75 doctors will take part. Each infant brought to the clinic will be examined, its defects charted and the chart given to the mother, who, with the aid of medical advice, will be enabled to correct
the child's faults.
Finding the defects will not be the only mission of this clinic, however.
The physicians also will chart the good points of the children. The most perfect of the 1,000 submitted will be so acclaimed, and the six best will be given suitably inscribed loving cups.
Valuable Service.
The proposal is described by Atlanta doctors as probably the most practical and valuable community service that can be rendered. Defects in children, particularly between the ages of six months and three years—
this period constituting the age limit of the children to be examined—are not easily recognized, doctors say.
Many instances exist in which small children suffer because of ignorance of their parents, or financial inability to obtain sound medical advice, it is pointed out.
In many cases simple remedies
would be sufficient to cure these ailments if the mothers only knew them,
and it is planned that this educational service will be the chief function of the clinic.
Registration of babies for the clinic will begin Monday, February 13, and continue through February 17. Registration headquarters will be maintained at 10 Peachtree street, on the ground floor of the Arcade building, and will remain open daily from 9 o'clock until 5 o'clock.
Coronation Ball Planned.
The present plans call for a coronation ball and community party on the night of March 3 in the city auditorium, which will be the grand culmi-

LIFE OF RADIO BODY IS EXTENDED YEAR

Washington, February 6.—(United News.)—The senate voted late today to extend the life of the federal radio commission to March 15, 1929.

Under the original law it was to have gone out of existence except as an appellate body on March 15, this year. The assumption of congress was that by this date the commission would have untangled the broadcasting confusion so that actual administration of the law could be left in the hands of the secretary of commerce with the radio commission meeting occasionally to hear appeals from the secretary's decisions. The bill now goes to the house.

Will Approve Appointments.
Confirmation of the appointment of Federal Radio Commissioners Harold A. La Fount, O. H. Caldwell and Sam Pickard, was virtually assured when the senate interstate commerce committee voted unanimously a recommendation that the senate confirm their nominations.

The committee made the recommendation as a climax to three months of complaints by broadcasters that the nominees were showing favoritism to the house.

SENATE TO GET NEW U. S.-FRANCE PACT

Washington, February 6.—(United News.)—The senate today voted to ratify the new arbitration treaty with France, signed today under unusual circumstances—the clicking of motion picture cameras and in the presence of a score of newspapermen—marked, in the words of the French ambassador, Paul Claudel, the start of a new idea, the outgrowth of war.

With the under secretary of state, Robert E. Olds, he signed and sealed the two exchange copies of the new treaty supplanting one negotiated in 1908 by Secretary Root and Jules J. Jusserand, which expired February 27.

The French ambassador remarked that it was with deep emotion that he affixed his seal on the 15th anniversary of the signing in Paris of the first treaty of alliance between America and France.

U. S. Idea Prevails.
The treaty signed today carries out an American idea, which M. Claudel characterized as being both great and practical and for which he predicted a great future. While the text of the agreement was not disclosed, a declaration for the outgrowth of war is known to be contained in its preamble. The treaty will be a model for similar agreements which the United States intends to negotiate with other powers.

President Coolidge transmitted the new treaty to the senate without delay. After it has been considered in executive session, its terms will be made public.

PARIS CELEBRATES SIGNING OF TREATY.
Paris, February 6.—(United News.)—One hundred and fifty years of friendship between France and America since their alliance in 1778, their association in 1917-18 and the arbitration treaty signed in Washington today were celebrated in Paris first by a luncheon given Ambassador Herrick by Foreign Minister Briand, and then at a dinner given by the Franco-American committee this evening.

M. Briand and his guests confined their celebration to a review of the remarks on the history of Franco-American relations since Benjamin Franklin and Charles Gravier Vergennes signed the famous document which allied the two countries. The dinner was more fruitful of talk. Nelson Cromwell, representing the American committee for Franco-American relations, spoke of the importance of the commerce made speeches. A letter of regret from Ambassador Herrick because of his inability to attend was read.

TILSON NAMED JUDGE OF NEW YORK CUSTOMS

appointment of Judge Tilson to the New York court would not be opposed by Senator Harris, of Georgia, who upon previous occasions, had prevented the confirmation of Tilson for the bench in Georgia.

Indicated Future Plan.
Indications that the president would attempt to push further his wish to make Tilson a judge in Georgia were given recently at the white house when it was made known that although Tilson's Georgia appointment did not show a possibility of successful senate confirmation, the president had not given up the intention to fill a place for him on the bench.

The appointment was made to fill the vacancy of the late William B. Howell, of New Jersey. There is still another vacancy on this bench and the president has under consideration a successor to William Charles Adamson, of Georgia, who retired recently.

Senator Harris late in the day announced that he would not oppose confirmation of Tilson for the customs court.

Senator George, of Georgia, also said that he had no objection to confirmation. He had opposed Tilson for the district judgeship because of the position taken by his colleague.

Harris Issues Statement.
After Tilson's nomination was received today by the senate, Senator Harris issued this statement: "Honorable William J. Tilson was not a resident of the Middle Georgia district at the time he was first appointed federal judge and for that reason I opposed his confirmation by the senate."

"Had he been a bona fide resident of this district at that time I would not have opposed confirmation. I do not feel that I should discuss at this time any personal differences that arose later."

"It has been an unpleasant duty to me to oppose a man whom I have known for many years."

Honorable W. J. Tilson is eligible for appointment as judge of the United States customs court and I shall not interpose any objection. I feel sure he will be confirmed without delay."

UNCERTAIN WHETHER HE WILL ACCEPT POST.
Macon, Ga., February 6.—(United News.)—When told of the new appointment of President Coolidge today, Judge W. J. Tilson said that he would rather have a chance to stand out to sea, and is not sure that he will accept the new post. He will not make a definite decision, however, until the appointment has been confirmed by the senate.

Tilson will serve here until he has decided his future plans.

POSITION FORMERLY HELD BY ADAMSON.
New York, February 6.—(United News.)—The appointment by President Coolidge today of William J. Tilson, of Alabama, to the United States customs court bench was to fill a vacancy created by the recent retirement of Judge William C. Adamson.

Judge Adamson, who is 70 years old, was appointed to the customs court bench by President Wilson in 1917. Previously he had served for 22 years as a congressman from the fourth district of Georgia.

BIRDSEYE PRAISES TOPOGRAPHIC MAP

Atlanta's decision to have an accurate, up-to-date topographical map of its metropolitan area made by engineers of the United States geological survey was lauded by Colonel H. Birdseye, chief topographic engineer of the government, during his lecture Monday night before the Atlanta branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

"Such a map," the speaker declared, "will more than compensate the city in its sewerage construction program alone, not to mention the scores of other valuable uses which it may serve."

The meeting, which was held at the Atlanta Athletic club, was featured by an open forum discussion of technical engineering subjects, and by several reels of official geological motion pictures.

The topographical map which, when completed, will be added to the equipment of the city department of construction is being created under direction of S. P. Floore, whose services are loaned to the city by the geological survey.

Far-Sighted Cities.
"A few of the cities of the United States," Colonel Birdseye declared Monday, "have been far-sighted enough to provide a real, comprehensive base for their construction work and other phases of city activities and city planning—notably Atlanta, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Rochester and Richmond."

"I have been extremely interested in the new survey of the city of Atlanta and when Mr. Hansell (chief of planning at Atlanta) came to Washington for advice on the topographic mapping phase of this survey, the geological survey felt it well worth its while to give him all of the help it could."

"We were glad, therefore, to loan one of our best topographic engineers, S. P. Floore, who has been placed in charge of the topographic surveying division of the Atlanta construction department. Mr. Floore brings to Atlanta the value of more than 25 years' specialized experience in this type of work."

Picture of the Surface.
"A topographic map is a picture of the surface of the ground showing in minute detail every minor feature, both physical and artificial, located in correct position and perspective to every other feature. With such a map an engineer can save all of the costly preliminary surveys and make his final plan at his desk."

"In Atlanta's sewer construction program alone I know that you will save much more than the total cost of the map, and the map once made is available for hundreds of other uses. In fact, its value is incalculable."

The head of the topographic engineering department expressed the opinion that the new topographic survey of Atlanta will probably become a model for much of the work that is done in the future by other cities.

William A. Russell, city construction chief, in discussing the map, declared he was satisfied that it would result in great benefit to the city's construction program, particularly the new sewerage program.

New Map Needed.
"When Cincinnati made its map for the same purpose, which Atlanta is now making here," he said, "it became one of my greatest desires to have Atlanta make a map that was thoroughly up-to-date, and in order to be sure that we had absolutely modern methods and work we naturally turned to the departments of the federal government which was doing the class of work we needed."

"We found advice and assistance from both the geodetic coastal survey and the geological survey departments and our foundation was laid on work which we were certain was the best that could be done."

"We are, of course, gratified that Colonel Birdseye is satisfied with our work and feel sure upon its completion he will have no cause to be other than proud of the work of which he is the step-father."

SENATOR SMOOT FORECASTS EARLY ACTION ON BILL.
Washington, February 6.—(United News.)—Early and favorable action by the senate on the house bill providing for the return of alien property and the settlement of American and war claims was forecast today by Chairman Smoot, of the senate finance committee, after that group had over-transactions in American oil had been brought to light during the trial of the civil suit at Chevenne for the recovery of Teapot Dome from Sinclair.

Two witnesses were examined—Sheldon Clarke, of Chicago, vice president of the Sinclair Refining company, and H. L. Phillips, president of the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company—but both said they had no knowledge either of the transactions of the Continental company or of any Liberty bonds it might have acquired with its profits in purchasing oil from the late A. E. Hummery, of Denver, and selling it at an advance of 25 cents a barrel to the Sinclair Crude and the Prairie Oil.

many questions—whether he had knowledge of anybody receiving Continental bonds and whether he had discussed their disposition with Harry E. Sinclair, his business associate.

Sinclair is a defendant in a criminal conspiracy case growing out of the lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve and the delivery of $233,000 of Continental bonds to Albert B. Fall after Fall had approved the lease as interior secretary.

The district attorney is studying the record in the case as certified to him by the senate Saturday, after Steward had obtained his release on a writ only a few minutes before he was to have been taken before the bar of the senate to answer to the contempt charge. Gordon expects to present the case to the grand jury later in the week.

Senate Resumes Inquiry.
With Stewart's case in the courts, the senate committee went ahead today with its inquiry as to what became of the $1,967,000 profits of the Continental company besides the sum Sinclair delivered to Fall and the $800,000 which James E. O'Neill, former chairman of the board of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, returned to that company in 1925 after the Continental

OPERA GUARANTOR CARDS MAILED OUT

ing the role of "Mimi," in Puccini's "La Bohème."

Before leaving Mr. Candler stated that the association will welcome new guarantors this season. Nine of the best operas in the Metropolitan repertoire will be sung in Atlanta and the association expects the guarantee fund to be raised quickly. Persons desiring to become guarantors are asked to communicate with the association at its office at the Cable Piano company. This year, as in preceding years, the guarantors will be permitted to select their seats before the opportunity is extended to the general public.

"Official Debut Reviewer."
During his connection with opera Mr. Candler has come to be sort of an "official debut reviewer." It has devolved upon him to go to New York to hear the new singers and to report back to Atlanta opera patrons. His judgment has proven sound in the cases of Edward Johnson, Canadian tenor; Mary Lewis, the American soprano; Marion Talley, who returns to Atlanta this year, and others.

Miss Moore's debut promises to rival that of Marion Talley. Like Miss Talley and others who have been sensations at the Metropolitan, Miss Moore has had public appearances which have won high praise for the quality of her voice. She is a graduate of "Hitchy-Koo" and, as in the case of Mary Lewis, has won through her musical comedy repertoire experience.

In Atlanta Miss Moore is to sing Mirella in "Carmen" on the afternoon of Saturday, April 28.

Among the artists slated to appear in Atlanta this season will be Amelia Galli-Curci, Marion Talley, Rosa Ponselle, Lucrezia Bori, Florence Easton and the new American soprano, Grace Moore, of Jellison, Tenn., who is to make her Metropolitan debut in New York on February 7; Beniamino Gigli, Giovanni Martelli, Rudolf Laubenthal or Walter Kirchhoff, Armand Tokatyan, Clarence Whitehill, Antonio Scotti, Giuseppe De Luca, Mario Basile, Lawrence Tibbett, Ezio Pinza, Julia Claxson, Marion Telva and Leon Koeber.

The tentative program for the week is as follows: Monday evening, "L'Africaine"; Tuesday evening, "The Barber of Seville"; Wednesday matinee, a double bill of "Hansel and Gretel" and "Pagliacci"; Thursday evening, "Rigoletto"; Friday matinee, "Die Walkure"; Friday evening, "Norma"; Saturday matinee, "Carmen"; and Saturday evening, "La Bohème."

ALABAMA MILK LAW IS AMENDED BY CITY COUNCIL
All milk sold to the consumer in Atlanta in the future must be grade "A" raw products or must be pasteurized, according to an amendment to the present milk regulations passed Monday afternoon by city council.

Lower grades of milk may be sold to cheese and butter plants, but cannot be sold to consumers for drinking, cooking or other purposes, under provisions of the amendment.

THREE SAFES FOIL
GANG OF YEGGMEN

Mutilated combinations of three Atlanta safes Monday bore mute testimony of the inexperience of a new gang of yeggmens believed to be operating in Atlanta, according to reports to police detectives. The safes, tampered with were those of the Druid Hills Baptist church, at 1085 Ponce de Leon avenue, the M. E. Derrberry company, at 180 Butler street, and the Gibson Furniture company, at 132 Forsyth street, S. W.

After dragging the Baptist church safe down a flight of stairs and sawing off the hinges and combination, the burglars gave up the attempt to open the safe and failed to obtain $500 which was kept in the vault, according to the report to police.

Police were told that although the combinations were seen off, nothing was taken from either the Derrberry or the Gibson safe, although the burglars obtained $15 in cash and cigarettes at the Derrberry store and a watch and a pistol at the Gibson store.

Burglars broke a plate glass window to rob the Atlantic & Pacific Tea store at 282 Boulevard, but did not obtain much loot other than 400 cigarettes, according to a report to police by George Williams, the manager.

Other robberies reported to police Monday follow: R. G. Pruitt, of 774 Techwood drive, a 21-jewel watch; Mrs. J. L. Keith, of 301 Ponce de Leon avenue, a string of amber beads, a silk umbrella, 10 sheets and 24 pillows.

W. J. ABBOTT HERE
ON SOUTHERN TOURSTEER RUNS WILD,
NEW YORK POLICE
RESORT TO LARIAT

New York, February 6.—(AP)—A free-for-all rodeo with policemen swinging lariats from taxicabs added an exotic flavor to the spicy life of Hell's Kitchen.

With one snort at the narrow confines of a cattle pen on Twelfth avenue which he was invited to enter, a black steer fresh from the west went tearing through the streets, scattering pedestrians before him. Catching a policeman in the act of aiming his automatic from the running board of a taxi, the steer nearly looked him off and tossed him to the sidewalk. It took western tactics—the lariat—to subdue the beast.

LIONS TO HEAR LEADER OF SALVATION ARMY

Colonel Martha Hamon, of the Salvation Army, and former superintendent of the Brooklyn Infant hospital, will be principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions' club at 12:30 o'clock today in the Wincoff hotel.

Featuring the musical entertainment will be a number of selections on a variety of instruments by Richard von Callo. The meeting will be presided over by Joseph B. Wolfe, president.

W. J. ABBOTT HERE
ON SOUTHERN TOUR

Willis J. Abbott, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, in Atlanta Monday on his tour of the south for a political survey, expressed the belief that Governor Al Smith, of New York, would not carry one state in New England if nominated as the democratic presidential candidate.

Mr. Abbott will visit a number of Georgia cities, he declared, in order to familiarize himself with the political viewpoints of southern democrats.

An outstanding democratic leader, Massachusetts, the editor of the Monitor has expressed his opinion that 1928 will prove the "psychological time" for the selection of a southern or western champion for the party's coming fight.

Speaking of the Smith prospect Monday, Mr. Abbott asserted that there is "serious doubt" that the New York governor could even carry his home state in the November elections.

RETAIL CREDIT CO.
HEAD HOST AT MEET
OF UNDERWRITERS

Members of the Atlanta Life Underwriters' association met Monday at the Atlanta Athletic club for the annual meeting of the Retail Credit company. An address by C. Adams, of St. Louis, secretary and national counsel of the American Life convention, featured the program. Mr. Adams spoke on the relation of life insurance to the banks.

William Law, president, and Hugh Hart, vice president of Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, together with delegates to the company's district conference here and representatives of Atlanta banks, were among the guests of honor.

The meeting was presided over by Henry M. Powell, vice president of the Atlanta Life Underwriters' association.

Hindu Mystic
Asks Injunction
Against Police

Miami, Fla., February 6.—(United News)—Efforts to secure relief through federal courts unavailing, Swami Yogananda through his attorneys, A. B. Gautier and Edward Walbridge, late today filed a petition in circuit court for injunction against police interference with a proposed series of lectures on Hindu philosophy.

The East Indian was ordered out of town by Chief of Police H. Leslie Quigg after complaints had been made that the lecturer had induced 200 Miami women to pay him $25 each for individual instruction in the mysteries of his cult. The petition, directed against Quigg and City Manager W. A. Snow, alleged interference with the teacher's right of personal liberty and free speech.

A petition almost identical in character was denied this morning by U. S. Judge William B. Sheppard, who held that there was no federal question involved.

AIR SEARCH FAILS
TO FIND FISHERS
ADRIFT ON FLOE

Buffalo, N. Y., February 6.—(AP)—Belief that ten fishermen were marooned on a drifting ice floe in the lower end of Lake Erie was dissipated today when two airplanes flew over the lake and found no trace of them.

The fishermen were reported missing yesterday after a break up of ice off Windmill Point on the Canadian side, between Crystal Beach and Port Colborne, Ontario. At least six observers on the shore said they had seen the men drifting out into the lake on a floe.

Whether the search would be continued was problematical tonight. It was generally believed, however, that unless a definite clue is discovered the search will be dropped.

K. C. FINDS ROOMS
FOR REPUBLICANS

Washington, February 6.—(AP)—Plans for the Kansas City republican national convention are passing through a stage that is not unfamiliar to politicians who have had experience with convention arrangements in the past.

When a convention city is selected, it is expected by party managers to go the whole length in turning over to the national committee what it has in hotel space and other convention facilities. Very frequently local interests do not fully realize the pressure that will be placed upon them in this regard, and when the accommodations offered do not meet the expectations of the party arrangements committee, a threat is made to take the convention elsewhere. Then there is a revision upward all along the line, the arrangements committee is pacified and the arrangements proceed.

Talk of taking the republican convention away from Kansas City has been very nebulous, and it apparently disappeared entirely today when the Kansas City housing committee announced it would have 4,000 hotel rooms available. Chairman Butler and other national committee officials immediately announced that the incident was closed.

The arrangements committee for the Kansas City convention is to meet in Washington next Thursday, but its members do not expect exciting developments. Ralph Williams, republican national committee man for Oregon and one of the members of the arrangements committee, already is in Washington.

Apparently the party leaders believe it still is too early to think seriously about selecting a temporary chairman for the convention. This is a process that requires a certain delicacy of procedure.

The only man who has been prominently mentioned thus far for the job is Charles E. Hughes, who was the party nominee 12 years ago.

Boy Puts Match
To Dynamite Cap;
Loses Eye, Finger

Valdosta, Ga., February 6.—Ernest Horton, of Day, Fla., lost his right eye, his left thumb and a part of another finger as the result of the explosion of a dynamite cap Saturday afternoon and he was brought to Valdosta for treatment Sunday.

The boy, about 11 years of age, was walking near a railroad track Saturday afternoon and found a dynamite cap on the ground. He did not know what it was and struck a match and touched it to the explosive through childish curiosity.

His injuries were very painful and after examination of the injured eye, surgeons gave the opinion that the sight was entirely gone and that it would be necessary to remove the eye ball. As soon as he was examined the boy was given treatment as a precaution against lock-jaw, it being feared that this might set in and result seriously.

POLICE MISTAKE
GIVES DICOSILA
TRIP TO CHICAGO

Chicago, February 6.—(AP)—Francisco Dicosila, 24, who was arrested in New York and returned to Chicago to face a charge of desertion, today stood meekly in domestic relations court.

"Where's your wife?" inquired Judge Edgar Jones.

"I have none," meekly responded the defendant.

"Where's the complaining witness?" asked the judge.

"I am," said Mrs. Grace Losola, 23, "but this man is not my husband."

Then it developed that Dicosila and Francisco Losola, the husband, lived together in New York. They resemble each other and the police got the wrong man who said he did not know why he was arrested. Losola meanwhile has sailed for Italy.

COOPERATIVE BANK
SYSTEM FOR U. S.
PROVIDED IN BILL

Washington, February 6.—(AP)—Provision for a cooperative banking system in the United States entirely independent from the commercial system, was proposed in a bill introduced today by Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa.

Under the proposed legislation present intermediate credit banks would be converted into a cooperative reserve system, giving to them all the powers of the federal reserve system. State cooperative banks would be permitted to become members of the proposed federal cooperative reserve.

CANDLER GARAGE
TO BE ENLARGED
BY FOUR STORIES

Tentative plans for the addition of four stories to the Candler Garage building, at Houston and 17th streets, costing approximately $200,000, and making an eight-story structure of the garage, were announced Monday by Walter Candler, owner. The increase is said to be in response to the demand for more parking space in that section.

It is expected that construction on the additional stories will be started in the early summer. Each floor of the building will accommodate about 100 automobiles. The ramp system, which is now used for the four levels, will be continued throughout the additional stories, and Mr. Candler plans to supplement this with automatic elevator service.

A survey among regular tenants of the building was recently made by Mr. Candler to find out if the plan to segregate regular customers on the upper floors, using the lower levels for transient motorists, would be acceptable. Results of the survey were favorable to plans for addition of four levels, Mr. Candler stated.

ELECTION 'PLANKS'
FACE PARLIAMENT

London, February 6.—(AP)—Lord and commons are gathering, again at Westminster for tomorrow's opening of a session of the British parliament which will be a maneuvering field for a general election late this year or early in 1929.

Foreign affairs probably will play second fiddle to domestic politics, but disarmament, security, the League of Nations and empire problems are likely to come up anyway in the daily questions put to the foreign secretary, Sir Austen Chamberlain, and to other cabinet members.

Will Reopen Church Row.
The controversy raging in Great Britain within the Anglican church will be renewed in May if the amended revised prayer book of the Church of England is submitted to the house of commons for approval.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin has returned to London from his Wiltshire country place, where he smokes his big briar pipe and talks "crops" with his farmer neighbors. Ramsay MacDonald, doughty labor chief, is down from Lismore, his native place in Scotland, completely recovered from the long convalescence that followed upon his illness in America last year.

Flapper Vote Issue Up.
The chief legislation of the year is expected to be the equal franchise bill, known to the nation and the newspapers as the "flapper" vote issue. By it British women will get the ballot on the same basis as men, at the age of 21 instead of 30 as at present, and without property and other qualifications as at present. Five million names will be added to the electorate when the measure becomes law.

Two Prisoners Face Forgery Indictments
The Fulton county grand jury today will be asked to indict Alvin Hendrix, of Aniston, Ala., and J. W. "Bill" Greer, of Atlanta, on forgery charges. City Detective H. T. Brown stated Monday.

Hendrix was arrested several days ago by Detectives Brown and A. G. Stone on three charges of forgery. Greer is held on five charges of forgery, detective said.

Dr. Stephen Wise To Lecture
On 'Jew and Gentile' Tonight

Dr. Stephen S. Wise, famous platform orator and rabbi of the Free Synagogue of New York, will arrive in Atlanta this morning for his lecture, "Jew and Gentile," at the auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight.

Dr. Wise comes from Montgomery, where he spoke to an audience of several thousand people Monday night. His lectures have created wide discussion and considerable controversy because of the startling liberality of some of his views. Although a member of the Jewish race, his opinions on some religious questions have not been received with unanimous approval by his leaders and his views on topics of the day, such as companionate marriage, the younger generation and possibility of future world peace, have created national comment.

Born in Buda Pest, Dr. Wise came to America when an infant and has become one of the most intensely patriotic Americans of his generation. During the war, rejected for active military service, he worked as a shipyard laborer until the government drafted his oratorical gifts for the Liberty loan campaign.

Since that time he has made his home in New York, where he is one of the most popular religious leaders in the metropolis, interpreting the "free" in its title in terms of freedom of religious belief and conducting services which attract men and women of all forms of religious belief.

Dr. Wise is brought to Atlanta by the Junior Hadassah, an organization of prominent young Jewish women who have undertaken the financial support of a group of war orphans in Palestine while they are in the land.

SENATE VOTES BAN ON CROP FORECAST
Washington, February 6.—(United News)—By unanimous vote and without debate the senate passed the Mayfield bill today which forbids any government department or bureau from publishing cotton prices.

The bill specifically mentions the agriculture and commerce departments and was introduced as a result of a recent flurry in the cotton market after issuance of an agriculture department statement regarding cotton prices. Since then, however, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine has announced that no further price predictions would be made by his department.

U. S. Agents Start Probe.
Possible violations by New York cotton brokers of the Clayton and Sherman anti-trust laws are being investigated by department of justice agents, it was announced today.

Charges have been made, the justice department said, that certain cotton operatives are using illegal business methods and withholding cotton from the market. A thorough investigation will be made.

EXCHANGE DEFEATS CONTRACT PLAN.
New York, February 6.—(AP)—The board of managers of the New York cotton exchange tonight defeated a proposal to establish a contract for southern deliveries in the south and in New York.

The proposal for southern deliveries, which was defeated 190 to 61, provided for the delivery of cotton at Norfolk, New Orleans, Galveston and Houston. Senators would be made a fifth part of delivery when Georgia laws were modified.

The successful opponents of the proposal, which has been up for a vote several times in the past 20 years, said it would have eliminated New York as a cotton center.

POPE IS SADDENED BY MEXICO, VATICAN ORGAN DECLARES
Rome, February 6.—(AP)—While messages of felicitation and good will greeted Pope Pius XI today on the sixth anniversary of his election to the papacy, the Observer of Rome, official Vatican organ, declares that the "unutterable misfortune" of the church in Mexico and "the blame-worthy silence on this" saddens the pope's heart.

In its leading article the paper says, "A most noble Catholic population is deprived of all its fundamental liberty in the light of this twentieth century, is constrained to live in catenae and pay with blood for its fidelity to Christ. . . . May the sun of the seventh year of his pontificate be tinged with liberty and reconquered peace of far-off Mexico."

Memphis, Tenn., February 6.—(AP)—Trial of the $1,000,000 libel suit of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, an afternoon newspaper, against the Commercial Publishing company, was set in circuit court today for May 21.

Last Thursday the Press-Scimitar entered a voluntary non-suit and similar action, after the case had been on trial for two weeks, but immediately refiled the declaration. No explanation for entering the non-suit was given. The suit followed publication of a full page advertisement in the Commercial Appeal, a monthly newspaper, on April 10 last, in which the Press-Scimitar circulation figures were challenged.

MINE IS GUARDED
AFTER GUN FIGHT

Pittsburgh, Pa., February 6.—(AP)—State policeman and deputy sheriffs will be stationed at the Crescent mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company tomorrow to guard against possible repetition of a shooting there today which resulted in the wounding of two coal and iron policemen. The men were not seriously hurt.

Coal and iron police said that while they were trying to disperse several hundred men and women pickets who were attempting to persuade non-union miners not to enter the working, someone fired a shotgun. F. P. Byrne was struck by 23 pellets and J. D. McKeown was wounded in the arm. Both resumed their duties after receiving medical attention.

Woman's Foot Crushed.
State police were summoned from California, Pa., to restore order. While the state officers were sent to the scene, a woman's foot, crushed.

Lawrence Dwyer, United Mine Worker official who was among the pickets, said a non-union miner fired the shot. Pittsburgh Coal company spokesmen said it was not known who discharged the shotgun because police were unable to find him.

The school at Broughton, another mining town, was reopened today with state policemen and a deputy sheriff on guard. The school was closed last week after having been struck by bullets, alleged to have been fired by non-union workers.

DISORDER FEARED IN OHIO DISTRICT.
Columbus, Ohio, February 6.—(AP)—Threatened disorder in the Belmont county mine district may cost Ohio's National guard in the dual role of policeman and relief worker.

For two weeks the guard has been ministering to the destitute children of southeastern and eastern Ohio, distributing food and clothing to the needy, but today alleged communist activities in the district have caused the possibility of a movement of troops into the county.

Disturbances occurred last night when more than 200 men, who entered the Belmont mine district, gathered on the highway, hurling stones into the homes of non-union miners, occupying houses owned by the Youngstown & Ohio Coal company. One of the non-union workers fired a shotgun into the crowd but no one was injured. He was locked up by officers to prevent violence.

HEFLIN ASKS MORE CONGRESS RECORDS FOR PUBLICITY USE
Washington, February 6.—(United News)—Distribution of 300 copies of the congressional record every day by each senator would be permissible under the resolution introduced today by Senator Hefflin, of Alabama.

The resolution was viewed as a corollary to Hefflin's recent complaint that newspapers have not given anti-Catholic speeches sufficient publicity. Senator Curtis, republican floor leader, prevented immediate consideration of the measure by having it referred to the committee on printing. Senators now are allowed to distribute only 88 copies of the record.

LIQUOR CONVICTION MAY BRING LIFE TERM IN LANSING
Lansing, Mich., February 6.—(United News)—William Wanschel, convicted of bootlegging and carrying a revolver, faces a possible life sentence to prison under the Michigan habitual criminal law, it was learned today.

CIGARETTE SAVES LIFE WHEN SPARK BRINGS GAS BLAST
Los Angeles, February 6.—(AP)—A desire for one more cigarette before he passed into oblivion, so police say, saved the life of Roy Boythe, 48.

Tired of a monotonous life, Boythe decided to turn on the gas, the officers said. He did. Shortly afterward he decided to have one last cigarette. He did. The explosion wrecked the room and brought the police and fire departments.

Boythe was placed in a cell in the psychopathic ward.

Funds Asked To Construct
Memorial to Negro Slaves

Sparta, Ga., February 6.—(AP)—Linton Stephens Ingraham, body servant of the late Alexander H. Stephens and now principal of the Sparta Agricultural and Industrial school, located near here, is making an effort to build a memorial to the former slaves of the south.

He makes the following appeal: "We are issuing an appeal to the good people of the south and all friends to the cause of negro education to contribute to a memorial fund for the purpose of erecting a building to be dedicated to the faithful slaves in the days of slavery. The memory and trustworthiness of those old black mammys and the men who served in the fields and homes, should never be forgotten. They stood by you and yours when you were in the midst of a great struggle, they protected your families in your absence, they were people who were true to you; you could sleep with your doors unlocked without fear, as there were always some old slaves upon whom the masters could rely."

"This memorial building will be for the purpose of educating the offspring of these slaves. The pictures and bronze tablets will be placed in a special room containing also some of the pictures of the sons and daughters of these slaves, who have gained recognition in various walks of life."

"This appeal should meet the approval of all the good people, both north and south. The negro is still loyal to the south. It is his natural home. In spite of all that has been said and done, the negro loves the south. Little abuse of the south is heard from negroes who have gone north as many of them would like to return here and spend the remainder of their days. Many have gone because they desired better educational advantages for their children. Any contribution will be highly appreciated by the Sparta A. & I. institute. Professor Ingraham plans after this work is done to erect a home for former slaves who are now too old to work and need the help of their white friends. It is expected that he will receive a unanimous response from his appeal."

HILL AS TRUTHFUL

Ottawa, Ill., February 6.—(AP)—Harry Hill's reputation for peace, quietude, truth and veracity was testified to today by a string of character witnesses, including the mayor, postmaster and city clerk of his home town, Streator.

For most of the witnesses, the prosecution waived cross-examination and for others only took time to establish that they had no occasion to discuss the young defendant's reputation prior to August 12, the date the defense holds Mrs. Hill met her death. The state contends she was killed August 4 or 5.

Defense Objections Upheld.
Chief William Robb this young man's reputation for truth and veracity?" State's Attorney Russell O. Hanson often asked.

"Did you ever discuss Harry's reputation for truth and veracity with Earl McNamara?" was another of the questions put by the prosecution. Defense objections to both queries were upheld by Judge Joe A. Davis.

Direct examination of the character witnesses was brief. They all testified to knowing Harry and then said his reputation for "peace and quietude" and "truth and veracity" was good.

Observe These General Rules of the Contest!

- All bona fide residents of Georgia and adjoining states may take part in this contest, except employees of The Atlanta Constitution and members of their families.
- Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire, provided payment of one of the three amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one award. Once registered, a solution cannot be changed.
- The first prize will be awarded to the person having the greatest sum total, which is to be determined by the sum of the figures "9" written in the space designated inside of the border forming the picture representing the cow. To the second greatest total second prize, third greatest total third prize, etc.
- Any lead pencil may be used. All writing or drawing pens of artists or engineers or their like are barred, as ink cannot be used on this grade of paper without blurring. The figures "9" need not be perfect in shape, but must be complete. Write as small as you like with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make—just so each "9" is fully shaped. Figures cannot touch each other, nor are they permitted to touch any part of the borderline forming the shape of the cow.
- Copperplate type, shorthand, reproductions or reductions are barred, also duplicates of the original. Every "9" must actually be made by hand with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make, and must be discernible to the naked eye, meaning clear and distinct to a person of average good eyesight or equivalent. The natural eye by those who do not wear glasses, and ordinary reading glasses by those who wear glasses only guide allowed in filling in the figure "9." A "U" with either straight or curved tail is permissible.
- Every contestant must give the correct total of the weight of the cow in the answer submitted by him. Incorrect statement disqualifies the solution. This weight of course is the sum total of the "9's" he has written in the figure representing the cow. This is important! Your name and complete address must be plainly written on margin of sheet on which your answer is given, or blank printed for that purpose, or a blank of your own selection attached hereto.

7. In case of ties, while there is hardly a chance in 10,000 of a tie, as many awards will be reserved as there are people tied. Before any awards are awarded, another puzzle will be given to the tied contestants to the tied on the same order of this one, except a smaller "cow" picture, after which should ties result each contestant will receive the full amount of the prize tied for.

8. Only one prize will be awarded to a person, household, or group of persons. Any person or household, or group of persons submitting duplicates are barred.

9. The decision of The Atlanta Constitution must be accepted as final and conclusive in all matters, and participants by sending in their answers agree to accept the decision of the contest manager of The Atlanta Constitution as conclusive and final.

10. The Atlanta Constitution reserves the right to reject at any time any contestant whom it believes has violated the rules. The solution of the winner of first prize will be reproduced in The Constitution, together with the published result which will be published as soon as possible after the closing date of the contest.

11. All answers will receive the same consideration, regardless as to whether or not a subscription for the daily and Sunday Constitution be sent in.

12. The contest is open to new and old subscribers alike. The regular subscription rate of $5.00 for six months subscription or $9.50 for 12 months subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution will prevail. Daily only subscriptions or Tri-Weekly subscriptions not acceptable in this contest. Full amount of subscription must be remitted in every instance. When sent through an agent, postmaster, or otherwise, no commission can be deducted. In column 2 of prize list, six months subscription there referred to can be either new or renewal; column

3, 12 months' subscription, $9.50, can be either new or renewal. Column 4, requiring two annual subscriptions, one can be a renewal, but one must be new. A new subscription means one who is not now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, directly or indirectly through any source, and has not within the past 60 days.

13. Subscriptions secured by the means of this contest in Atlanta and suburbs will be delivered by carrier service. In towns outside of Atlanta, where The Constitution has carrier delivery service, the paper may be delivered by carrier, upon request of the subscriber or contestant; otherwise the paper will be sent by mail.

14. A person who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, and paying the carrier or agent by the week or month, or otherwise, may send or bring directly to The Constitution a six or twelve months' payment to qualify a solution. Whatever is due such carrier, dealer or agent at that time must be paid to him as the remittance sent us will date from the date it is received. The carrier or agent will be notified by The Constitution of such advance payments. If all arrears are not paid, the solution may not be considered valid. Renewals on mail subscriptions will be extended for the length of time paid for from present date of expiration. All qualifying subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance.

15. Contest closes Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. All solutions delivered in person must be at The Constitution office by 9:00 p. m. of that date, but may be mailed any time before midnight. Solutions mailed at any post office in Georgia and adjoining states bearing postmark of no later date than midnight, February 8th, 1928, will be accepted if rules governing same are complied with. The contest extends from Wednesday, January 4th, 1928, to and including Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. Five days will be given thereafter for those who have not fully qualified for the larger prizes to do so, after which no further qualification remittances will be accepted.

The above rules are simple, easy to understand, and is all the information that can be given on the contest except that which appears in the announcement of which this is a part.

Money Is Sought For New Viaduct On Mitchell St.

Chief of Construction William A. Hansell, Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and other city officials will begin a series of conference today looking towards provision of $96,000 for a new Mitchell street viaduct, which was officially closed Monday to traffic because its long service made it unsafe for vehicles.

In closing the bridge, Chief Hansell declared the step was taken as a precautionary measure to prevent possibility of an accident, which the deplorable condition of the present structure made likely.

Attaches of the office of the construction chief were ordered to close the bridge following failure of the finance committee to provide funds necessary for improvements. Mr. Hansell warned the committee last year that strengthening of the trusses and supports was absolutely necessary to insure safe transport of vehicles.

Under the law he is personally responsible for accidents which might occur, in a criminal way, and the measure taken Monday was in self protection, he explained.

All street car lines which formerly traversed the bridge have been diverted to the Nelson street bridge from which a spur track has been constructed to connect with the main line. The spur track is located on Elliott street.

"I told the finance committee," Chief Hansell said, "that it would be necessary to close the bridge unless this money was provided. The committee understood the situation thoroughly, but the members stated they were unable to provide any such large amount because of the heavy demands being made upon the city by the schools and other departments."

"There is nothing that can be done except to tear down the present structure and build a new viaduct and that cannot be done unless funds are provided. A continuance of traffic over the bridge in its present condition would mean an actual peril to human life for that reason it was ordered closed."

Florida's Future Bright, Declares Charles J. Haden

Charles J. Haden, prominent Atlanta capitalist, who has just returned from a tour of Florida made with a view of observing conditions in that state, Monday issued the following statement:

"To the frequent question, 'Will Florida come back?' perhaps the best answer is, 'Florida has never been away.' During the speculative rush nearly $1,000,000,000 was put into highway and street paving, electric power, and lighting and water-works developments, in hotels and homes and other durable improvements that are there yet, and will be for a long time to come."

"For the first time Florida has ample facilities and reasonable rates for taking care of visitors. It is, and ever will be, the queen of winter resorts of the western hemisphere. It was never more attractive than today. Its future is almost boundless."

"It is to be regretted that so many people lost their heads and money in the inflation frenzy, but their misfortunes are not chargeable to Florida. The world-wide publicity which that state has received in the past five years is shared in a large measure by all states, and particularly by Georgia."

POLE SLAYS FOUR BANDIT 'GUESTS'

Warsaw, February 6.—(AP)—Four robbers, two of whom had killed a family of five persons, fell prey to the crack shots of an army captain in the town of Klonow, near Lvov.

Advices received here state that four men described as well dressed and apparently of some education, arrived at Klonow by automobile last night and asked a Captain Bilinski, owner of an estate there, to put them over night because they were having motor trouble.

"Guests" Demand Money. Captain Bilinski gave hospitality to two of the men and told the other two to go to the house of a neighbor. During the night the captain was awakened by his guests who demanded his money. In reply, he gave battle and shot and killed both.

Fearing for the safety of his neighbors, the captain rode to the nearby manor where he found the entire family, consisting of five persons, murdered. Soon after his return to his own home, the remaining two robbers appeared. The captain shot and killed both of them.

Society Spends Busy Days Preceding Season of Lent

With only a fortnight left before the penitential days of Lent begin, society takes advantage of the time to pay social tribute to the lovely brides-elect of early spring, to the group of charming visitors in our midst, and to those who by reason of their ingratiating qualities of mind and heart are always toasts at whatever social functions their presence grace.

Mrs. Howard McCall and Mrs. B. C. Ward, two of Atlanta's most prominent women, and leaders in things civic, patriotic and cultural, will be central figures at the luncheon today at which Mrs. James Clay Gentry will entertain at her home on Piedmont road. A number of well-known clubwomen have been invited to meet the honor guests.

Miss Leila Kirkpatrick and Miss Mary Jimmie Pattillo, two Atlanta belles who will plight their troth this month, are the inspiration for a round of parties almost daily. Mrs. Raymond Yantis is an attractive recent bride who also comes in for a share of entertainment planned in her honor.

Members of the younger set find much pleasure and interest in the presence in the city of Miss Emily May Wilson, of Southern Pines, N. C., the feted guest of Miss Elizabeth Otis at her home on Sixteenth street.

The first Tuesday in each month always marks the meeting of the Junior League, which will be held at 3 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving club.

Tabernacle Pep Class Gives Entertainment.

The Pep class of the Baptist Tabernacle entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Vandegriff, 117 Woodland avenue, in Peachtree Hills. Games and music were enjoyed. The social committee of the class, composed of W. Nettles Ferguson, chairman; Hoyle Reinhardt and James A. New, was in charge of the plans for the party. Among the topics of national interest to the Overseas league is the necessity for hostesses in the army corps. Plans were discussed in regard to approaching other patriotic organizations on the subject.

Local business of importance was brought before the unit and plans formulated for a Valentine party to be given Wednesday evening at Veterans' hospital 48, with Miss Estelle Martin as chairman.

Music Club Presents Cameron McLean in Concert Wednesday

Cameron McLean, the Scotch baritone, who is appearing in concert Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Atlanta Music club, arrived in the city Monday morning and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Alderman, of 1050 Ponce de Leon avenue.

This concert was originally listed to occur on the first Wednesday of the month as one of the series of eight programs on the morning musicals, of which Mrs. Charles Chalmers is the program chairman, but owing to the Padewski concert, the date was changed to the second Wednesday, February 8. The hour was also changed from 11 o'clock in the morning to 8:30 o'clock in the evening, for the prime reason of giving the men an opportunity of hearing Mr. McLean, who is a "man's singer" of songs. The regular membership card will admit one only and guests tickets are $1.00. Tickets may be procured through Mrs. Charles Chalmers and Mrs. R. H. Alderman, who form the committee on the evening of the concert, at the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium.

Mr. McLean's program will include "Invocacion de Orefeo," Jacopo Peri; "The Mountains," Quotient; "The Lacerato Spirito," Verdi; "The Victor," Kautz; "Der Junfing an der Quelle," Schubert; "Aus dem Hohenlied," Arnold Mendelssohn; "Song of the Flea," Monusky; "The Sands of Dee," Clay; "Fair Love Song," Fraser; "Nancy's Hair," Fraser; "The Pipes of Gordon Men," Tannand; "The Leprechaun," arranged by William Arms Fisher; "The Cloths of Heaven," Dunhill; "Lone Dog," Erlebach; "The Green Eyed Dragon," Hivers; and "Blow, Ye March Winds, Blow," DeLoone.

The young bride-elect will be given in marriage by her father, A. S. Allen, and the groom will be attended by his brother, Lewis Hardin, who will act as best man. Miss Viola Allen, the bride-elect's sister, will be the maid of honor and little Miss Betty Lynn Ramspeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Ramspeck, will act as flower girl.

Immediately after the marriage service, Mr. and Mrs. Allen will entertain informally at a buffet supper at the Candler hotel, the guests to include members of the two families.

Mr. Hardin and his bride will leave in the late evening for New York where they will spend two weeks. On their return they will make their home in an apartment on Virginia street, Atlanta. A number of parties will be given in honor of the bride-elect after her return from her wedding trip.

The Poetry Forum Holds Interesting Meet.

The poetry forum, a division of the Atlanta Writers' club, met Sunday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hill, on Ponce de Leon avenue. Miss Mary Brent Whiteside, Atlanta poet of international fame, was guest of honor and read several selections from her poetry, which was enthusiastically received by the members present. Miss Whiteside was prevailed upon to read other poems which will appear in an early number of Harper's and other magazines. The March issue of the Lyric, published in Norfolk, will be devoted exclusively to Miss Whiteside's poetry, which is a distinct compliment to this country's Lyric being one of the country's foremost poetry magazine. It awarded Miss Whiteside its first prize for 1927, of $100 for the sonnet sequence, "Again, Sappho."

Miss Agnes Kendrick Gray, another poet of extreme note, read several poems from her own pen, her "Ships of Venice" being especially popular with her audience. She was her sonnet, "Salute to Lindbergh," which appeared in an Atlanta Sunday newspaper. Miss Gray's poetry has appeared in leading magazines in this country and in Europe, her work being extremely popular with all the anthologists, who include her work wherever that of literary lights appears.

The members of the forum read several poems, among the authors being Dr. Wightman F. Melton, Miss Anna Thurman, Miss Elvion, J. G. Paulin, Mrs. C. Gainer Turner, Miss Marion Otis, Miss Frankie Taylor, Mrs. J. G. Norton, Mr. Reid, Mrs. Ben Hill, J. W. Wheeler, Daniel Whitehead Hicky and others. Mr. Hickey, chairman of the poetry division of the Writers' club, presided.

THE CONNOISSEUR

With the weather getting colder every minute of the day, And the breeze blowing everything to bits along the way, Mr. Van de View is waiting in the shelter of a door While he wishes that he didn't have to brave it any more.

Every time he starts to go he feels a gust upon his face As a lady in a whirl of wind goes blowing by the place; And he gets a glimpse of color and of ornaments and such— And a buckle made of shell which he's enjoying very much.

Most obligingly the coats are flapping open all about, Showing buckles is a fashion of the day without a doubt, And a girdle which is fastened with a gold metallic ring We can classify with pleasure as the very smartest thing.

And another seeking shelter for a minute from the cold, Wears a belt which has buckle of enamel, black and gold, And deciding to remain a while to generate his pluck He congratulates himself upon the nature of his luck.

Braving the Cold Breezes Is Too Much for Van de View

With the weather getting colder every minute of the day, And the breeze blowing everything to bits along the way, Mr. Van de View is waiting in the shelter of a door While he wishes that he didn't have to brave it any more.

Every time he starts to go he feels a gust upon his face As a lady in a whirl of wind goes blowing by the place; And he gets a glimpse of color and of ornaments and such— And a buckle made of shell which he's enjoying very much.

Most obligingly the coats are flapping open all about, Showing buckles is a fashion of the day without a doubt, And a girdle which is fastened with a gold metallic ring We can classify with pleasure as the very smartest thing.

Colonial Dames Purchase Home In Savannah

Mrs. George M. Brown, chairman of the permanent headquarters committee for the Georgia Society of Colonial Dames announces the purchase of an interesting old house on Lafayette Square, Savannah, by the Georgia Society of Colonial Dames as permanent headquarters which is of interest throughout the state. When the house was built, probably in the early '40s, by Andrew Low, an English cotton merchant living in Savannah, it was on the edge of the town, the old Cohen home (now the Southern Bell Telephone property), the old Harbridge house (now the home of the Randolph Andersons), and the Low house, occupying the site of the old jail property. The house was inherited by William Low, son of the first owner of the property, who married Juliette Gordon, daughter of General and Mrs. W. W. Gordon, of Savannah, and since Mrs. Low's death Mrs. Low has divided her time between her home in Savannah and in London. At her death last year the house was bequeathed to her brother, W. W. Gordon, from whom the Colonial Dames purchased the property. It occupies one of the trust lots in the rear of the lot and a small portion of the garden belonging to the Savannah council of Girl Scouts, to whom Mrs. Low, founder of the Girl Scout movement in America and life-long friend of the organization, left the property as permanent headquarters. Many distinguished people have been guests of Mrs. Low during the life time of Mrs. Low, when international officers of the Girl Scouts have been guests of the founder in Savannah.

From this house Thackeray wrote, in 1855, "I write from the most comfortable quarters I have had in the United States." Here General Robert E. Lee paid his last visit to Savannah in 1870. The Colonial Dames expect to occupy the house next fall.

23 CANDIDATES ENTER PRIMARY

BY HERMAN D. HANCOCK.

Only six battles will be waged for nominations in the Fulton county primary to be held March 7.

This fact was disclosed at noon Monday, when the entire lists closed with 23 candidates in the field. Six office holders are unopposed.

Five candidates—Walter B. Stewart, Captain George M. Hope, Dr. A. H. Cochran, Ed H. Inman and Sam Hewlett—are in the race for two vacant positions on the Fulton county commission.

Edwin F. Johnson, at present a member of the commission and a candidate for tax receiver, opposing Walter E. Harwell, for eight years city marshal, will not resign until after the primary. The post will be filled in the event Mr. Johnson quits by a special election or by selection of the four remaining members of the board.

Three women—Mrs. Mabel Abbott MacNeill, Mrs. Beulah Manston and Mrs. J. R. Wakefield—will fight for the post now held by Miss Margaret Culbertson, county treasurer. J. C. Harrison, who had announced for the position, failed to qualify in the closing hours of the campaign.

Carlton W. Binnis, solicitor of the criminal court of Atlanta, is in the field to succeed himself, and is opposed by John S. McClelland.

Sheriff James I. Lowry, who has held the post for the past 11 years, is opposed for reelection by A. M. Corrie, railroad man.

Judge Jesse M. Wood, of the criminal court of Atlanta, is opposed by R. E. Church, attorney.

Unopposed entries are ordinary, Thomas H. Jeffries, incumbent; clerk superior court, Thomas C. Miller, incumbent; coroner, Paul Donohue, incumbent; judge of the city court, Hugh M. Dorsey, incumbent; county school superintendent, Jere A. Wells, incumbent; county surveyor, Eugene W. Robert, incumbent.

Entry lists closed at noon Monday, and registration lists at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It was estimated that the registration is approximately 52,000.

The fight for votes will begin at a rally to be held tonight at English Avenue school and will be carried to every section of the county.

DELAY PICKING JURY AT BREWERY TRIAL

Covington, Ky., February 6.—(AP)—Selection of a jury to try the government's case against the Weidemann Brewing company of Newport, Ky., for alleged liquor law violations was held in abeyance today while attorneys spent the initial session arguing over technical matters.

Ten of the 13 officials, employees and agents of the company indicted by the federal grand jury were in court. Charles Weidemann, president of the concern, was absent because of illness. Bertram Weil and Jacob Stein, New York brokers and operators of a plant at Hoboken, N. J., where shipments of alcohol from the Weidemann company were said to have been, are contesting removal to Kentucky.

The indictment charges diversion of large quantities of illicit alcohol and manufacture of unlawful beer.

After hearing arguments at the opening of the trial, Federal Judge Cochran overruled a defense motion to the indictment. The afternoon session was spent in a battle instituted by the defense for the return of certain papers which the government took from the brewery after it was padlocked last March. The court has not ruled on this matter.

Lowden Indorsed.

Washington, February 6.—(AP)—Frank O. Lowden was indorsed today for the republican presidential nomination by republican members of the house from Illinois districts outside of Chicago.

Jumping Atlanta

ONE of the novel surprises connected with the opening of the new Allen Store consisted of the great number of men who came to see us. It gave us pause. We began to think. Are these men interested in Eve's modern fig leaves? Yes, but not entirely, beautiful as these fashions may be, and lovely as lovely woman undoubtedly is when she wears them.

Business, man's peace-time occupation, was in their minds. It is their concern to know which way the city is going to jump. Evidently they are satisfied that it is jumping to the neighborhood of Peachtree and Cain.

The First Baptist Church has just been sold for three-quarters of a million. The property will be devoted to commercial enterprises.

No wonder business men, bankers, journalists, investors and public officials were so generous in their praises of the new Allen Store, its ideal location and its beautiful appointments.

This store is the center of the new and greater Atlanta!

THE GUMPS—OLD STRONGHEART

JUGGERNAUT

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

Esther Rowe, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to Cannes on the Riviera, is about to return to New York when she sees an advertisement in the paper for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job in order to spend a little time in Cannes.

While waiting for an answer to her application to Dr. Sartorius Esther treats herself to tea at the fashionable Restaurant des Ambassadeurs. She becomes interested in the conversation of a beautiful French woman and her escort, an Englishman, who sit at the next table. On returning to her hotel Esther finds a note from the doctor asking her to report to the morning.

The beautiful French woman of the restaurant comes to see Dr. Sartorius and Esther learns that she is Lady Clifford.

INSTALLMENT VIII.
A CHANCE GATHERING.

"I say, have you got any matches anywhere?"

Esther jumped at the sudden sound of a man's voice close to her ear and looked up from the accounts she was writing. She had heard some one moving about in the salon, but she had thought it must be Jacques, who a few minutes before had been cleaning the brass on the front door. The voice, which addressed her casually and without any preliminary greeting, stirred something in her memory. She rose from her desk by the window and shot the intruder a glance, at the same time reaching for the matches from the bedside.

"Here you are," she said, holding out the box.

The visitor, cigarette in mouth and hands in pockets, sauntered into the room and took it from her. He was young, English, immaculately dressed except for a rather hazy but very worn loosely over his tweed suit, and he carried a pair of very smart mottored gloves, which he cast upon the table. His manner was at once hard and immature, languid and curiously restless. A second glance assured Esther that her first suspicion was correct. Undoubtedly he was the young man she had seen on several occasions, notably with the French woman at the Restaurant des Ambassadeurs.

Puffing contemplatively he let his eyes roam about the room.

"Doctor still out?" he inquired in a vacant tone.

"Yes, but he'll probably be home in a few minutes. It's nearly lunch time."

She was about to return to her work when the young man's roving eyes reached her in the chair and rested upon her face for several seconds, their vacant gaze giving way to speculative attention.

"You have a familiar look, you know," he remarked. "I seem to recall seeing you somewhere. Where was it?"

Esther met his scrutiny for a moment, then slowly shook her head.

He carefully flicked an ash pan the rug, then looked at her again.

"Yet I am positive I've seen your face somewhere about Cannes. The problem appeared mildly to interest him. 'Have you any idea where it could have been?'"

She regarded him for some seconds, considering what to say.

"Yes," she replied deliberately. "I can tell you where it was. At least I believe I know."

"Where?"

"In the grill room of the Carlton. About a fortnight to three weeks ago, at lunch."

"Oh!" he weighed the suggestion for a moment. "You may be right, I dare say."

He raised his brows and blew out a cloud of smoke.

"I shouldn't wonder," he assented, and seemed to dismiss the subject from his thoughts.

While Esther resumed her task he ranged aimlessly about, winding up again in the salon, where she heard him rustling a newspaper. Jacques coming in to lay the table for déjeuner glanced across the hall and whispered to Esther:

"That captain will stay for the evening. It is good I have a ragout today, there will be an assef for three I need only to put another egg in the omelette."

He laid three places, then from the recess at the bottom of the sideboard he produced a cocktail shaker and a variety of bottles.

A latchkey grated in the outer door, the doctor's heavy step resounded along the hall, pausing at the salon.

"Ah, Holliday," he said, without surprise. "I saw your car outside."

"About the last you'll see of it, doctor," the visitor replied, joining him. "I'm going to sell it. Know anybody wants a decent little car cheap?"

The two entered the salle a manger together. Esther saw the doctor give his friend a slow, ruminative glance before inquiring:

"Why do you want to get rid of it?"

"O, I'm thinking of leaving this part of the world in a few weeks' time. No good carting a car as far as I'm going—too damned expensive."

"And where are you going?"

"I may go out to the Argentine. There's job offered me out there."

"So that's it, is it?" He began feeling in his pocket for a cigarette, adding as an afterthought, "I suppose you've made up your mind about it?"

"Not entirely. But there's no point in sticking around here . . . as things are. There's precious little, I want to tell you, between me and starvation. Still, I'm taking a few weeks to think things over."

"Won't you lose the post if you let so much time go by?" inquired the doctor, with the heavy air of making conversation.

His friend's lip curled in easy contempt.

"Not this post," he answered laconically, and turned his attention to the sideboard.

With a thoughtful face Holliday measured equal parts of gin and Cointreau into the shaker. Esther found herself watching the operation with interest. Still busy, he remarked, without turning:

"Old Clifford seems a bit seedy."

The doctor had sunk heavily into a chair at the top of the table with a sigh of relaxation. He replied:

"Yes, so his wife mentioned to me a few days ago, but I have not seen him."

"I have. Last night, I was there to dinner. The old boy was quite off his feed, and pushed off to bed about nine o'clock. I dare say you'll be hearing from him before long."

Sartorius yawned. "I dare say," he agreed, and broke off an end of the long stick of bread before him.

"It's a long, long way to that Argentine ranch," Holliday remarked pensively. "See here, doctor, you're a far-seeing man. On general principles, what would you advise?"

The doctor looked up from his contemplation of the mustard pot, and it seemed to Esther that his dull eyes met and held the young man's shallow haze ones for an appreciable space of time.

"Well," he said at length, "do you particularly want to go?"

"Like hell!" was the brief reply.

"H'm! In that case, I should certainly leave the decision till the last possible moment. There's always some slight chance of something turning up."

"No! Do you think there is, though?" demanded Holliday eagerly, stopping with the shaker in his hands.

"On general principles."

The visitor's face brightened noticeably. Whistling a bar or two of "Gigolette" he poured out two glasses of a pale, straw-colored liquid, then, with the shaker poised over a third glass, looked inquiringly at Esther.

"What about you?" he inquired.

Esther hesitated and succumbed to the temptation. After all, why not? "As a resident of a dry country," she said, smiling, "I can't refuse."

He filled the glass and handed it to her just as Jacques entered bearing the hot and savory omelette and champagne.

Afterwards this scene recurred to her more than once, showing to her imagination like a close-up on the screen. In the light of subsequent happenings it held for her a curious fascination. She could at any time shut her eyes and see the three of them, so ill assorted, sitting around the table in that bourgeois dining room, eating and conversing, herself one of the party by accident and virtually ignored by the other two, yet linked with them in a sort of casual camaraderie that was somehow established when she accepted the cocktail. Out of all that followed no incident remained for her so sinister and at the same time so paradoxically trivial and absurd as this chance gathering at déjeuner.

BOND PRICES FIRM

BUT LIST IS DULL

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York, February 6.—(AP)—

Steady prices ruled the bond market today, but there was an easy under-current. Competition of new offerings,

$20,000,000 of which came into the market last week, undoubtedly contributed to the dullness of the list,

while traders were given further reason to limit their commitments by the advance in the federal reserve

discount rate at Minneapolis, the fifth increase among the 12 banks in the system.

Consolidated Liquidation took place

among bonds which are not usually active. Pathe Exchange 7 1/2 and points, fell back for a net loss of 6 1/2 points, and Cuba Sugar 7 1/2 and points, were not far from the same level. Traction issues, which followed a strong tendency all last week, declined

on the certainty that the state transmission will deny the Interstate commission's appeal for higher rates.

Railroads in the main were dull, although Seaboard issues continued to move downward. All and 4 1/2 losing about a point each. The latter, however, was not far from the same level. All Florida "A" 6 1/2 dropping more than 2 points. Chesapeake Corporation 5 1/2

reflected moderate accumulation.

A few of the convertibles showed renewed activity. Liquidation of the advancing a point and Anglo-Chilean

Nitrate 7 1/2 reflecting large purchases.

United States government issues

were generally firm, but only nominal

business was transacted.

French securities again led the foreign group, with easing tendencies in most of the remaining sections.

New York, February 6.—Coffee futures

were irregular today, old stock contracts

GREEK DEBT PACT IS SENT TO SENATE

Washington, February 6.—(P)—The Greek war debt settlement was sent to congress by President Coolidge today for ratification required by law. The agreement represents a compromise between the United States and Greece and is a result of many months conference between representatives of the treasury and state departments and the Greek minister. It grows out of the $48,236,029 credits allowed by the financial commission to the Greek government from the United States. Under this agreement the United States made an advance of $13,000,000 in two installments, one in 1919 and one in 1920. Greece files claims. No further advances were made and last year when suggestions were made for a settlement, the Greek government claimed that it was entitled to advances up to the full amount of the credits. As a result of succeeding conferences, the agreement calls for an additional advance of $12,167,074, which would bring the total principal of the Greek debt to $27,167,074 and follows almost the exact basis of settlement reached by the Greek government with Great Britain.

KRESGE CONVICTED ON WIFE'S CHARGE

New York, February 6.—(United News.)—A jury found Sebastian S. Kresge, multimillionaire chain store magnate, guilty of infidelity on seven counts after 15 minutes of cogitation today and Supreme Court Justice Tierney volunteered the opinion that he was a hypocrite.

As a result of the jury's verdict, Mrs. Doris Mercer Kresge, who was just an obscure actress before she met the playboy of the 5 and 10 cent store world, will be granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to be followed in three months by a final decree. Kresge will have lost another wife after a few weeks of marital bliss and nearly three years of battle, during which the courts of Detroit—where he sued, and of New York—where she sued, have resounded with their conflict.

First Wife Is "Sorry."
The result also bears out the prediction of the first Mrs. Kresge. She received a settlement reported to be $25,000,000 when she parted from Kresge to make room for a younger and more exotic helpmate.

"I am very sorry for him," said the original Mrs. Kresge. "He ought to know what happens when May and December marry. Besides, I have lived with Sebastian since I clerked in his first small store. The extravagance of a modern young woman will amaze him."

Miss Gladys Adele Fish was named correspondent in the proceedings passed on today. She came to New York from Natick, Mass., where she was known as an accomplished pianist and an indefatigable worker in the Fiske Methodist church. An unnamed girl "of 16 or 17" also figured in the testimony.

Evidence Favored Kresge.
Some of the testimony might be interpreted favorably to Kresge. Private detectives hired by his wife found themselves under the necessity of attending prayer meetings in shadowing their subject and Miss Fish, Kresge's recent gift of $400,000 to the Anti-Saloon league was referred to in mentioning his support of prohibition.

Justice Tierney interrupted Detective Val O'Farrell's testimony concerning a huge fortune dealing with the public.

"Yes," responded Walter Lynch, attorney for Mrs. Kresge, forcefully. "He is also the man who gave large sums to aid prohibition."

"What hypocrisy!" the justice observed. The apartment raid netted, among other things, partly empty bottles of whisky, according to affidavits filed in behalf of Mrs. Kresge.

OHIOANS ACT TO PUT HOOVER ON BALLOT

Columbus, Ohio, February 6.—(P)—Formal efforts to induce Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, to enter the presidential campaign, began today in Ohio. The Ohio delegation of 51 votes to the Kansas City convention of the Republican party, which was held in the formation of an "Ohio Hoover for president" committee.

About 75 men and women, many of them prominent in the state, met to discuss the organization which adopted a resolution urging Hoover to enter the contest in this state, and signed a petition making a similar request. The Hoover movement is headed by former Secretary of State Thad H. Brown, Columbus, who presided at today's conference. Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati, son of the chief justice of the United States; State Senator Chester C. Bolton, Cleveland, and Mrs. Nettie B. Laughhead, Cincinnati, state senators, were named vice presidents. The formal resolution pointed out that the illness of Hoover would be able to express their preference for him in the April state primary unless he gives his consent.

HOOVER DECLINES TO DISCUSS POLITICS.

Washington, February 6.—(P)—Secretary Hoover, when apprised of the Ohio action looking to republican presidential primaries in that state, refused to change his frequently announced refusal to discuss politics. The petition drawn up at Columbus by a group of his supporters asking his permission to begin a campaign in his behalf had not reached the commerce department, though friends of Hoover who had interested themselves in tentative organization work for the campaign were known to be in touch with the Ohio activities. Positive decision by Secretary Hoover either to accede to or decline the Ohio request is expected, however, within a few days. The law in that state has been carefully studied by his political advisers, and it is well understood that the personal assent of a candidate to the filing of his name must be obtained.
